Quilty Pleasures

Zimmer360 Home Store

There was a young woman who lived near the Pru. Her place was just great! Uh, no, just the view.

Her style dictated that less, well, that's more. But, plainly stated, she was devoid of decor.

And so she drove north, in search of mod stuff. Bedding and goodies, without all the fluff.

She ended in Amesbury and was happy to see, a new little store called Zimmer360.

In there she found home brands so elusive, like Hefel and Fussenegger (Zimmer's got the exclusive).

Sheets and pillows and everything for the bed, and other cool things like a cardboard moose head.

She saw mobiles and clocks and wall decals, too; her whole place was done by the time she was through.

She was happy then sad: Amesbury's so far away! But lucky for you, the e-commerce site launches today.
